

Warranty & Disclaimer Notice

Our clients make every effort to ensure that every product they manufacture is of quality material and workmanship and capable of optimum performance, however, we cannot make a guarantee against defects of our clients' product(s).

Safety First

Our products may include various moving parts, therefore we recommend that you do not wear loose clothing while operating any of our products. Use caution around the moving parts. We expect that the operator will take full responsibility for their own safety and/or for those near our products.

Limited Warranty

The product(s) you have purchased are warranted by the manufacturer for two year from the date of original purchase against defects in workmanship and/or materials. Parts that prove to be defective during the two year period will either be repaired or replaced at the manufacturer's option.

This warranty does not apply if the damage occurs due to improper handling or operation, abuse, misuse, or unauthorized repairs made or attempted.

Liability Disclaimer

This limited warranty excludes all liability for incidental or consequential injury, and/or damage of any property, and/or any other cost incurred for any cause whatsoever.

We are not responsible for any injuries that may occur during the installation/uninstallation or operation of our product(s), in the case of an accident due to defect or malfunction of any part of the product(s), or any other injury that could occur in connection with the product(s).

We are not responsible for any consequential damage to property that could occur in the case of defect or malfunction of any part of the product(s). This includes any equipment involved. We will only take responsibility for damage to the kit as described in the limited warranty notice above.

Operator Responsibility

To help ensure personal safety and lessen the chance of damage, we recommend that you carefully check all weight-bearing parts and stress points for cracks before each use. If you find any cracks or detect any other abnormality on the product(s), please do not operate until it has been properly repaired.

The manufacturer is not obligated to pay for unauthorized repairs made to the product. Authorization must be obtained from the manufacturer before repairs are made.
